

Sterling-based Cuisine Solutions donates 2,400 meals to Virginia Hospital Center workers

Times-Mirror Staff Report

May 30, 2020 Updated Jun 1, 2020

The team from Cuisine Solutions donated 2,400 meals to workers at Virginia Hospital Center in Arlington

Nurses in Arlington receive food from Sterling-based Cuisine Solutions

Chefs with Sterling-based Cuisine Solutions work to prepare meals for health care workers in northern Virginia

Hospital workers at Virginia Hospital Center in Arlington recently received 2,400 meals prepared by Sterling-based Cuisine Solutions as a way to thank the health care professionals for their hard work during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The meals were part of Cuisine Solutions' new line that was developed in response to the COVID-19 outbreak and requires minimal human contact to prepare.

The company is known for creating sous vide-method foods, which are vacuum-sealed products cooked at precise cooking times and temperatures.

